

KALIFORNSKY VILLAGE ORTHODOX CHURCH CEMETERY

Kasilof, Alaska

Kalifornsky Village Orthodox Church Cemetery is located off Kalifornsky Beach Road on the bluff above the beach near milepost seven. The closest town is Kasilof, Kenai Peninsula Borough, Alaska. The signed fenced graveyard contains 16 white Russian Orthodox crosses which are representing the people buried here. The boxed grave outside the fenced area with a white Russian Orthodox cross belongs to Peter Kalifornsky. The second fenced area, nearer the bluff, marks the remnants of the church. Read September 4, 2002

From: CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS AND AREA MEMORIALS IN ALASKA'S KENAI PENINSULA BOROUGH – Published 2004 by Kenai Totem Tracers Genealogical Society. Used with permission.

In 1983, Peter Kalifornsky provided the following information about the people buried here.

1. Qadanachen Kalifornsky

(Born 1791 died about 1885)

2. Alexsay Kalifornsky

(Interred about 1926 in the back right corner. Great-grandson of Qadanachen

3. Nickanorka

(Interred about 1926 in the back right corner. Hunting partner of Alexsay)

4. Agrofina Sacalof Kalifornsky

(Peter's mother died about 1913. Alternate spelling Agrafina.)

5. Members of the Nickanorka family

6. Members of the Simeon Unishev family

7. Members of the Nick Truman family

Following Peter Kalifornsky's death he was buried in this cemetery. His is the single grave outside the fence.

8. Peter Kalifornsky

Oct 12, 1911 – June 5, 1993

(Marked only with a Russian Orthodox Cross and a crib. His name was provided by Alan Boraas and the dates through library research.)